HANDS OF GAS CO. AND CITY ARE TIED

FLATTERY RUIN OF MEN, SAYS MRS. STILLMAN

Mrs. M. J. Stillman

Honest Wife Cannot Always Succeed at the Game, the Banker's Mate Declares—Women "Three-Fourths Feeling and One-Fourth Intelligence."

(By MARGERY REX.)

NEW YORK. — (International News Service.)—Woman, the house maker, tends the hearth. She keeps her domestic fires burning with a true, steady glow. She carefully sweeps away rubbish and will not permit the firelight to go out.

But often woman, the wanderer, the wanton, passes by. She peeps in at domestic harmony. Ah! she too, will enter to take warmth and comfort at the fires kept alive. In fact, she will enter to be the woman who hovers idly within.

The intruder fans the flame. "De-licious!" follows. Homes are razed and hearths blackened.

And no wife may aspire to cope with the passing flatterer. The true wife does not fawn upon nor offer idle compliments in order to get some favor. She often must tell unpleasant truths.

Her views upon this phase of married life were expressed strikingly by Mrs. Anne Dugan, Potter Stillman when she gave an interview at the home of John E. Mack, in Foughkeepsie.

Maintains Her Composure
Presiding at a dainty tea table on the front porch of the Mack residence, Mrs. Stillman, who has been bitterly and publicly attacked by her husband, James A. Stillman, never loses composure.

"You know," she began, "no wife can hope to keep up with the woman who flatters. A wife wishes her husband to amount to something. She must often—to that end—tell him the truth."

"The flatterers measure the amount of affection to display by the size of the emerald in view," she smiled amiably.

Woman is the incentive
"Woman has coached and aided man and pushed him along. To her all progress is due," Mrs. Stillman continues.

"The real woman puts those she loves ahead. Man has a little less of it at present, even the men who are not able to get around women as easily as formerly. Some, and later on they got around women who love others more than themselves."

"I blame the system under which we were raised," Mrs. Stillman is now referring to the husband who would repudiate and condemn her. "It is father only brought him up right."

"About his home there was the old-fashioned, secretiveness, no love, affection or recognition of the part these emotions play in life—no knowledge of their proper place in our existence."

"Such people don't appreciate just how real these things are—how real to other people."

their children.
"But the whole trouble with women now is that they are three-fourths feeling, one-fourth intelligence. They need a better education which such a perfect balance would give them."

"Woman's place is not man's—each has his or her own certain place in the world. Women more and more are becoming the equals of men. I don't mean that woman must compete with man or take his job away, but she must not let him get around her so easily."

"Woman suffers more than she should because she is not better balanced, as I have said."

"But there is good and bad in everyone. No one is all bad or all good."

"I still believe—at least I hope—that Stillman can be a success in the world if he will. But he has given up his time and attention to a woman who has almost hypnotized him—who, for instance, has filled up his mind with a lot of stuff about mind reading, carrying about a rabbit's foot for luck and equally silly things."

IF HE HAS NO MONEY
"This woman has been able to instigate him to this lawsuit against me and his child."

"How much do you think such a woman would care for him if he had no money?" She smiled mockingly, a spark of fun in her gray eyes.

"Would he be so popular if he were poor, do you think?"

BIG PROFITS MADE
36 Per Cent Cleared on Manufacture of Butter

WASHINGTON. — (By United Press.)—Profits as high as 36 percent are common in the manufacture of creamery butter and canned or evaporated milk, the federal trade commission reported to congress today.

The report was based on a nationwide survey of milk products. Their conclusions reached in it include:

High profits in the making of butter and canned milk caused prices of raw milk to soar.

Many manufacturers and distributors of butter and canned milk do a business of $5,000,000 a year.

MEN QUARREL, ONE SHOT

FIVE KILLED IN AUTO WRECK

Car Crashes Into Motor Pary at Fremont

THREE OF VICTIMS WOMEN

Fatal Accident at Same Spot Two Days Previous

FREMONT, Ohio. — (By Associated Press.)—Four persons are dead and a fifth, a woman, is dying at a hospital here, as a result of an accident early last night at a detour crossing east of Fremont, when a Lake Shore interurban car crashed into an automobile.

The dead are: Frank Filcox, Norwalk; Ernest Filcox, grown son of Frank; Eva Black, Norwalk; Olive Miller, Norwalk.

The injured woman is Mrs. Filcox, wife of Frank Filcox.

The party was motoring to Norwalk from Fremont at the time of the accident. The interurban car was backing into Fremont from Norwalk, it is said.

The accident happened at the same spot where a Fremont man was killed two nights ago.

The detour in the road is made necessary by paving which is being done at the bridge across Green creek. The crossing is visible from each direction.

Filcox and his son were killed instantly. The Miller and Black girls died on the way to a hospital here, and it was said late last night that Mrs. Filcox cannot survive her injuries.

The motor car was demolished.

FOOD SHIP BRINGS JOY TO RUSSIA

First Cargo to Enter Petrograd Harbor in 3 Years

RIGA. — (By Associated Press.)—Honors such as are usually accorded to royalty or to officials of high rank were given the Dutch steamer Alexander Folden when she arrived at Petrograd recently, says the newspaper Izvestia of Moscow. The steamer brought the first large cargo of food that has entered the harbor in about three years and as she passed out of Kronstadt she was saluted by the battleship Marat, while Russian sailors lined the deck and cheered.

The Dutch captain dipped his colors while the ship's band played, and the vessel steamed direct to the pier and began to unload her cargo of herring. With yards of starvation behind them, dock workers, by day and night shifts, unloaded 5,350 barrels of the ships cargo so swiftly that the next day twenty carloads of herring were dispatched to Moscow while the rest was left for distribution in Petrograd. Only the day before the ship arrived the Economic Fore wrote as follows about Petrograd.

"The fate of the city is so tragic that no comparison can be found in the world's history. The immense mortality of Russia during the last few years may be regarded as far more tragic than the fall of Pompeii."

Since the Alexander Folden made port, two more steamers have arrived at Petrograd carrying 17,000 barrels of herring, which were quickly unloaded.

RIOT AT FUNERAL

Three Killed at Burial of Cuba's Former President

HAVANA. — (By United Press.)—Cuban military forces, and police were ordered to adopt extreme precautions today to prevent a recurrence of rioting which yesterday marred funeral services for former President Jose Miguel Gomez.

Three persons were killed, and more than 20 were injured in fighting at the very gates of the cemetery where the body of the former president was being taken. Police were blamed in some quarters for hasty action in firing into the mob.

At the cemetery gates, there was a disturbance. Old Gomez pushed thru the police lines, attempting to take the casket from the caisson and carry it to the graveside on his shoulders. The police promptly fired. Instantly the casket was the center of the riot. The disturbance ended quickly, the dead removed and the former president's body carried to the grave for final services.

BOMBING OF EX-GERMAN SHIPS BEGINS TOMORROW

WASHINGTON. — The aerial bombing tests with the ex-German warships will be "tremendously important," but will not "challenge the superiority of effectiveness" of the battleship, Secretary of the Navy Denby declared today in a statement to the United Press.

The transport Henderson left here today, carrying a company of senators, congressmen, army and navy officers, foreign naval attaches and newspapermen who are to witness the tests, beginning off Hampton Roads tomorrow.

"I do not think the results of the test will be revolutionary," said Denby. "The purpose of the tests is an experimentation with bombing aircraft, with the idea of determining the tactics of the attack by aircraft and the tests to be with a view of studying the effect of aerial bombs."

LEAGUE CHANGES BEFORE COUNCIL

Amendments Up At Geneva Meeting This Week

FIRST OPEN SESSION HELD

Other Problems to be Considered by World Body

GENEVA. — (By Associated Press.)—Sweden and Finland debated questions relative to the future status of the Aland Islands before the council of the league of nations today. This was the first session of the council, public meetings held in the past being for the purpose only of announcing decisions on matters heard at executive assemblies of the organization.

During the coming week the Polish-Lithuanian dispute, the report of the commission appointed to pass on proposed amendments to the covenant of the league, and conflicting claims to territory along the frontier of Albania will be considered by the council. Belief is expressed that these matters will be cleared up before Saturday.

The debate on the Aland Islands was based on the report of the league of nations commission, which recommended that the islands be given to Finland.

MINISTERS MEET

LONDON. — (By Associated Press.)—Prime Minister Lloyd George sat down at the council table here today with the premiers of the British overseas dominions, and began consideration of policies which will be carried out by the British empire. Those present at this historic meeting, which was held at the residence of the prime minister in Downing street, were Premiers Hughes of Australia, Massey of New Zealand, Smuts of South Africa, and Meighen of Canada.

The first work to be done, according to the announced program, was to decide upon the procedure to be followed during the meetings and the extent to which the liberations of the conference would be made public. Later meetings of the premiers will be held probably in St. James' Palace.

Forecasts of the conference have indicated that the Anglo-Japanese alliance, imperial defense, imperial policy in foreign affairs and other matters of far-reaching importance would be discussed.

LEGION CAMPAIGN PLANNED

Drive for Ohio Referendum on Bonus to be Opened

CANTON. — (By Associated Press.)—A campaign will be conducted by the American Legion throughout the state in behalf of the referendum which will be held upon at the election in November. The referendum is for the purpose of providing an amendment to the state constitution to enable the issuing of twenty-five million dollars in bonds for the payment of a bonus to veterans of the world war.

Plans for the campaign were made by 100 commanders and adjutants, representing 56 American Legion posts in northwestern Ohio, at a meeting held here yesterday. John E. McQuigg, state commander and Hugh K. Martin, state adjutant, were present at the conference. Meetings of officers of the legion posts in the other four districts of the state will be held soon. The proposed compensation would take the form of a bonus payment of $10 a month to each man for each month of service, with a maximum bonus of $250. It was also decided that on July 4, every member of the legion in Ohio, will make an effort to secure a new member. Another district conference will be held September 11 at Toledo.

HARRISON RISNER BEING SOUGHT

Alleged to Have Fired on Man Working in Onion Patch

VICTIM HAS CHANCE TO LIVE

Hatred Dates Back Years to Kentucky Hill Feud

Another chapter, and perhaps the final one, in a war which started in the hills of Kentucky, was written in Hardin-co at 10 o'clock Monday morning when Harrison Risner is alleged to have shot and probably fatally wounded Frank Stone, according to advices received from Quickstep, about four miles from Alger, where the wounded man owns an onion patch. Stone was shot six times by a .38 calibre revolver. He was rushed to St. Rita's hospital here, where his condition is said to be serious. The shooting occurred on Stone's premises.

ESCAPES IN AUTO
Risner, after shooting Stone, is alleged to have taken the wounded man's automobile and made his get away. The Hardin-co sheriff's department is at this time scouring the neighboring country for Risner. Last reports received in Lima were to the effect that the car had broken down near Roundhead. Risner abandoned the car, and has taken to the fields in an effort to elude the pursuing authorities, it is said.

The Stone-Risner quarrel is said to date back some years. It is said to have started in the mountains of Kentucky, before either of the two men left that state for Ohio. For the last few years, there has been considerable trouble between the men. They have had several law cases in court, and neither made any effort to hide existing ill feeling toward the other, it is alleged.

Just what was the cause of the quarrel, Monday, no one appears to know. Shortly before 10 o'clock, Risner was seen to enter Stone's onion patch. Stone at that time was working in his crop. The two men engaged in conversation. From this point on, no one is able to say just exactly what occurred.

SHOOTING SIX TIMES
However, reports have it that the quarrel became heated, Risner is said to have pulled his gun and started firing. As Stone ran, Risner is said to have emptied his revolver after him. All six shots are believed to have taken effect in Stone's body.

After the shooting when Risner sought a means of escape, the first opportunity that presented itself was Stone's Ford which was standing near by. Jumping into the car, Risner effected his getaway before quickstep natives realized what had happened.

It was, at first, believed that Risner was headed for Lima. Police authorities here were called on the phone, and asked to be on the lookout for him.

Few gave chase to Risner, but were unable to overtake him. Others offered assistance to Stone. It was at first believed that Stone had been killed, but a hurried examination disclosed that the seriously wounded there might be a chance for recovery.

The wounded man was placed in an automobile and rushed to Lima where he was taken to St. Rita's hospital.

47 SHOTS IN BODY
Examination and an X-ray of Stone at St. Rita's hospital late Monday afternoon lead police authorities here to believe that someone besides Risner attacked Stone, as the X-ray picture discloses that Stone's body contains 47 leaden pellets. Bruises upon his head and body also indicate that Stone was also attacked with a club.

Later advices from Alger are to the effect that another Risner, brother of Harrison, is alleged to have been implicated in the fight, and accompanied him in his flight.

Reports from St. Rita's concerning Stone are favorable. Although seriously wounded, attaches of that institution believe he has a chance to recover because of his rugged constitution.

PRESIDENT RETURNS FROM WEEK-END CRUISE

WASHINGTON. — President Harding returned to Washington early today from a week-end cruise down the Potomac River on the presidential yacht Mayflower.

The president was accompanied on the cruise by Mrs. Harding and a number of guests. He did not land, the Mayflower remaining at anchor at the mouth of the river over Sunday.

MRS. LETITIA KINNEY DIES AT COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS. — Mrs. Letitia Kinney, 65, widow of Charles Kinney, former secretary of state, died at a local hospital this morning, following an operation. The body will be taken to Portsmouth Wednesday for burial.

A brother, John Yoskley, Cincinnati, survives.

CITY OF TOLEDO BLAMED FOR BOY'S DROWNING

TOLEDO. — Failure of the city to provide danger zone warnings is said to be responsible for the death of Harry Stover, 11, who was drowned at the municipal bathing beach, in the Maumee river late yesterday.

The boy had gone in swimming early in the afternoon and had reached a depth where the water came to his chin before he was noticed by other bathers at the beach. A moment later he disappeared under the surface, apparently having stepped into a hole. His body was recovered an hour later.

Coroner Hensler held the boy's death to be accidental but said that although the spot where the boy went to his death is a city bathing beach no lines had been placed to indicate where the bathers must not venture.

HOMES SWEEPED IN CLOUDBURST

Railroad and Bridges Washed Away in Athens-co

MANY FAMILIES DESTITUTE

Thrilling Rescues Are Made in Flooded District

ATHENS, O. — (By Associated Press.)—Half a score of homes, eight bridges, many outbuildings and crops were swept away last night when a cloudburst struck Bern-ty, Athens-co. The mining towns of Lathrop and Sharsburg were greatly damaged when two small creeks rose many feet. County roads and more than a mile of railroad were washed out. No lives were lost, although a dozen families are left destitute and total damage is estimated at a quarter of a million dollars.

A score of Sunday school children nearly lost their lives when they took refuge in a barn. The barn was swept off its foundation but did not overturn. Several thrilling rescues were reported today, one man having been washed down the valley half a mile.

HOMES WASHED AWAY
SISTERVILLE, W. Va. — (By United Press.)—A score of homes were washed away and property damage estimated at $300,000 was caused by cloudbursts in three nearby West Virginia counties, Sunday, according to reports here today.

The total rainfall was estimated at six inches, causing a rise in rivers and threats of serious floods.

DIES IN STORM
MONROE, Mich. — (By United Press.)—No trace had been found today of the body of Clyde Lantz, 20, steward of the Monroe Yacht Club, who was drowned Sunday afternoon when his rowboat capsized in Lake Erie off Monroe piers during a storm. Sidney Dowe, Lantz's companion, was unable to save him.

BRITAIN RECALLS MINE OFFER

Strike Situation Critical as Government Withdraws Funds

LONDON. — (By Associated Press.)—Leaders of the Miner's Federation of Great Britain took no steps today to prevent the withdrawal of the government's offer of a ten million pound sterling subsidy to the coal industry, and it would appear that unless the government renews its offer the money will not be provided by the government for the carrying on of the business.

The situation is full of uncertainty, the main outstanding factor being the call of the miners' union to all wage disputes to meet at an early date for the purpose of taking national action to secure mutual demands.

Most of today's newspapers described the decision to call this meeting as an "S. O. S." prompted by desperation. As yet nothing has occurred to indicate how the call is likely to be received. The annual conference of the labor party will be held at Brighton tomorrow and Herbert Smith, president of the miners' union, and Frank Hodges, the union's secretary, will attend. They will probably determine the attitude of the leaders of other unions, whose aggregate membership is more than three millions. Most of the unions now are involved in wage disputes and are ready, according to spokesmen of the miners, to take a stand with the coal diggers against what they regard to be a "conspiracy" on the part of employers to reduce wages below the pre-war level and break the unions.

CANNOT PREVENT LOSS OF FUEL

Producers May Shut off Supply Under Court Ruling

CONTRACT ONLY SAFEGUARD

Agreement Not Possible Under Proposed Ordinance

That the hands of the Lima Natural Gas company and the city of Lima are tied in the matter of preventing the Medina Gas and Fuel company from shutting off gas to this city unless it is bound by a contract became known Monday.

The gas committee of the Chamber of Commerce heard the reading of a recent Supreme Court decision to this effect in a parallel case.

This means that unless a franchise which will permit the distributing company to make a contract with the producing concern is not effected here, Lima undoubtedly will be without natural gas soon.

The Medina company has announced that it will not enter into a new contract with the distributors if the franchise now before council, which has had one reading, is passed. The producers demand 45 cents a thousand for gas and the proposed franchise allows a rate of only 50 cents to consumers.

MUNICIPALITY LOSES
The ruling of the court, handed down June 14, in the matter of St. Clairsville against the Public Utilities Commission and the Ohio Fuel Supply company, states that the utilities commission may allow service to be discontinued if it satisfied that the company has no gas, and is unable to secure by contract a supply from another gas company or pipe line.

The decision then goes on to state that: "The commission does not have the power to compel by order a gas company which is not a pipe line company to furnish a supply of gas to another company to enable such other gas company to comply with its contract to supply a municipality and its inhabitants."

Regarding withdrawal of service the court declares that: "By the provisions of Section 504-3, General Code, upon application by a public utility, it is not required that notice shall be given to each party therefore involving service of the time and place for hearing such application, other than publication in a newspaper of general circulation throughout the county or municipality where such utility has a franchise."

CASES ARE PARALLEL
The St. Clairsville case is said to be identical with that in Lima. The Ohio Fuel Supply company, a distributing company, shut off its product, alleging that the producing company would not sell to it. The village sought relief before the utilities commission and lost. The case was then carried to the Ohio Supreme court and was decided June 14.

The court's verdict, members of the Chamber of Commerce committee fear will seriously hamper Lima unless franchises can be arranged between the city and local company which will make it possible for the Lima company to pay the price the Medina company asks.

The Medina company, upon which the Lima company depends for gas, has refused to enter into any contract with the Lima company if the present ordinance before council is passed.

CURTIN'S LETTER
In a letter to C. A. Jacob, chairman of the gas committee, dated Monday, President E. R. Curtin of the Lima company, says:

Dear Mr. Jacob:
Since talking to you on Saturday, I have heard thru our Philadelphia people that the Medina Gas Company officials in New York want to have some way disposed to reconsider their action as to giving us a new contract, providing the Lima Council will not pass the ordinance which is already started in Council and had one reading.

You know, as I have explained to you, the Medina Gas Company refuses to enter into a contract with us, tying themselves up for two or four years, when the Council of Lima would want us to accept a price ordinance for the same length of time, that we could not possibly accept and the Medina Gas Company knows we can not accept.

As I look at this matter, there are only two questions to be considered at this time. If the Chamber of Commerce, the City Council and the gas users of Lima do not want natural gas any more, and want to tie to an artificial gas basis at once, the best thing they can do is to have the proposed price ordinance passed at once. If they expect to use natural gas for cooking, hot water heaters and small room heating for a number of years to come at a much cheaper rate than artificial gas, they had best not pass the proposed ordinance, for passing the ordinance simply means that our hands are tied and we can go no further, and we will not try further to make a contract with the Medina Gas Company; but if this proposed price ordinance is done away with at this time, we will proceed at once with further efforts to make the best possible contract with the Medina people and I will keep the Gas Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, as well as the members of the present Council, fully advised.

TOLEDO IS READY FOR MOOSERS

City is Setting New Standard For International Convention

WILL OPEN NEXT MONDAY

Members From Alaska to Florida Are Arriving

TOLEDO.—(By Associated Press.)—A whole city is working to make a success of the thirty-third annual international supreme convention of the Loyal Order of Moose here June 27-July 1.

The magnitude of the affair has gripped Toledo, and a community effort to put the convention over as far as Toledo is concerned has developed.

Thousands of visitors and delegates are expected. They will come from all over the country. The farthest corners of the United States will be represented. Delegates from Alaska mushed over ice and snow behind dog teams to get to places where they could start their journey to Toledo.

One southern lodge will send its delegates dressed as Simon Le Greese; others will come in the regalia of Klu Klux clansmen, and colonial homestead colonies.

Marching clubs in cities as far distant from the convention city as Jacksonville, Fla., and towns along the Pacific coast have been formed for the Moose parade the evening of June 28.

Thousands of Moose are expected to be in line.

GARDEN OF FLOWERS.

Toledo will be made into a garden of flowers to welcome the Moose. Appeal has been made to home owners to decorate their homes with flowers. Flowers will be in evidence nearly everywhere, according to plans when the convention opens.

Officials of the Moose Order assert that Toledo is setting a new standard and a new plan for international conventions. Its success, they assert, will be "a definite contribution to American municipal enterprise."

The convention is to be adjourned Friday July 1, and special trains run to Mosheart, Ill., so that delegates and visitors may attend graduation exercises and ceremonies at Mosheart high school.

The program for the convention consists of "days" and "nights." Saturday June 26, in Gayland Day; Alumni Night; Monday, Davis Day; Moose Night; Tuesday, Rafter Day; Women's Night; Wednesday, Roosevelt Day; Thursday, Venetian Night; Friday, Harding Day; Legion Night; Friday, On to Mosheart Day.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS.

The speakers will include Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, director general of the Moose; Governor Harry L. Davis, who at one time was an organizer for the Moose; Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward J. Henning of San Diego, Calif.; Cole Blaise, former governor of South Carolina; Federal Judge Samuel S. Siler of Atlanta, Ga.; Joseph Mitchell, editor of the National Magazine; Darius A. Brown, former mayor of Kansas City; and Mayor Cornelius Schreiber of Toledo.

One of the important questions to be decided at the convention, will be that of a location for the Moose Home for the Aged. The initial expenditure for the institution will be about $1,300,000, it is said. More than 50 cities, according to Moose officials, are bidding for the home.

The home will be built and financed by payments of two cents a week by members of the Legion of the Moose—the second degree.

THEIR INTENTIONS WERE GOOD ALAMEDA, Cal.—Hereafter Principal W. G. Faden, of Lincoln School, will be made specific. Recently, at the conclusion of a teachers' meeting, he announced that all teachers intending to marry should call at his office. A few minutes later the entire force waited upon him. "How come?" he demanded. "We all hope to marry some day," responded the spokeswoman. "But I meant only those who expect to marry this Summer," he managed to rasp. "That's different," chorused the teachers as they filed out.

LIQUOR CASE AGAINST JOE WERNER DROPPED

The case against Joe Werner, former saloon keeper, charged with having intoxicating liquors in his place of business, has been dropped according to Chief Roush. Werner was arrested, Saturday night, June 11.

According to Roush, the liquor found was on a shelf in the lavatory. Werner declares it was evidently placed there by a customer, and denies that he knew it was there. The case, according to Roush, would not hold in court, so it was dropped.

SCHOOL TO HOLD SOCIAL.

A Bath-up School will be held at the Blue Lick school Saturday evening, June 25. Proceeds of the social will be used for the school picnic which will occur in August. These are both annual events of the Bath-up school year.

COMPERS FORCES READY FOR FRAY

Prepared to Meet Onslaught of Lewis Men at Denver

KNOTTY PROBLEMS FACED

Important Questions Before Federation Convention This Week

DENVER, Colo.—(By Associated Press.)—Faced by one of the most strenuous programs in its history, the American Federation of Labor today opened the second week's session of its forty-first annual convention. The most important questions, the railroad problem, determination of future relations with the European trade union movement; jurisdictional disputes and many other important matters were scheduled for action of the delegates.

Whether President Samuel Gompers would be opposed for re-election by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, had not been definitely learned when the meeting opened. Supporters of Lewis, however, were hard at work and announced that his candidacy would be announced within the next 24 hours.

While President Gompers and administration forces have taken public recognition of the opposition, it was learned that they have made plans to meet a contest, but are awaiting the next move of the mine workers' leader.

IRISH QUESTION

The complicated situation growing out of the split between the two factions of Irish sympathizers was expected to be disposed of today or tomorrow, when the resolutions committee brings in its report. The committee is understood to have decided to reject the resolution urging boycott of British-made goods and report favorably the less drastic resolution of sympathy for the Irish cause and calling for recognition of the Irish republic.

Supporters of the boycott resolution who declare it the official resolution of the "Irish republic," asserted they will carry the fight to the floor of the convention in an effort to overthrow the committee's report if it is unfavorable.

FOREIGN RELATIONS

The International Association of Machinists have announced their determination to have the convention repudiate the action of the executive council in severing relations with the International Federation of Trade Unions.

The request of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Ways Employees and Railway Shop Laborers for reinstatement in the federation, it was learned, has the full support of all the railroad organizations.

The question of putting into effect the federation's railroad program calling for "government operation" is expected to be one of the major issues. Delegates of the machinists' union and other railroad organizations declare that they are going to demand that the executive council take steps immediately toward getting this program under way.

Secretary Frank Morrison said the convention would probably complete its business and adjourn next Saturday.

OHIO PENITENTIARY INVESTIGATION BEGINS

COLUMBUS.—The method of procedure of the probe into conditions at the Ohio penitentiary occupied the attention of the legislative committee upon its convening here shortly after noon today. It was understood that sanitation and conditions in the "idle house," where almost 400 men while away their time each day, will be among the first phases of the investigation.

The committee is composed of Senators A. E. Culbert, Fremont, chairman; James R. Reynolds, Cleveland; and A. C. Norwood, Canton. Senator Reynolds is the Democratic member.

AMERICAN ROTARIANS LONDON CLUB GUESTS

LONDON.—American Rotarians visiting here ran into hospitality today, which reminded them of home.

A large party was entertained at luncheon by the Aldwich Club comprising advertising men, merchants and other business men. Speeches emphasizing the friendship of Britain and America were made following the dinner.

The Rotarians later were taken on a sightseeing trip to the famous Albert and Victoria docks. Later there was luncheon and a garden party.

APPEAL IS TAKEN

KIWANIS FLOCKING TO CLEVELAND

Delegates Arrive From 500 Cities For Convention

MANY PROMINENT SPEAKERS

To Report on Work Clubs Have Performed

CLEVELAND.—(By Associated Press.)—Delegates were arriving on every train and lake passenger steamer today to attend the fifth International Kiwanis Club convention. The convention, which opens tomorrow morning, is expected to be one of the highest gatherings of business and professional men ever held in the country, delegates coming from Kiwanis clubs in 500 cities of the United States and Canada.

During the last year plans of promoting physical education and national welfare have been discussed. Henry E. Karr, of Baltimore, Md., chairman of the public affairs committee, has declared that a proper program of physical education will raise physical standards of the nation. This committee has also declared that legislation should be enacted throughout the country to promote physical education.

It is likely that the executive committee will make a report on work which Kiwanis clubs have performed in assisting the Near East and European relief movements and the China Famine Fund movement. It is also probable that convention will be asked to go on record as approving the American Legion's program for relief for disabled world war veterans.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME

The convention will be opened tomorrow morning with addresses of welcome by Mayor Fitzgerald, of Cleveland; Harry L. Davis, governor of Ohio; and Harry H. Howard, president of the Cleveland Kiwanis Club. J. Mercer Barnett, of Birmingham, Ala., international president, will make the response.

Several hundred delegates, who made the trip to Cleveland by special boats are living aboard their steamers. One hundred and fifty members of the Canton Ohio, Kiwanis club have pitched camping tents in Lakewood Park.

Among the speakers before the convention will be Harry T. Atwood, of Chicago, who will speak on "Back to the Republic"; Roger W. Babson, Wellesley Hills, Mass., who will talk on "The Business Outlook"; the Rev. William States Jacobs, of Houston, Texas, who will speak on "Kiwanis and the Church"; and Dr. Henry Churchill King, president of Oberlin, Ohio College, who will talk on "Friendship." United States Senator Allee Pomerene, member of the Canton Ohio, Kiwanis club, also is expected to be among the convention speakers.

ed on whatever negotiations we may have, and will do my best to get a contract from the supplying company which will be as satisfactory to all as it is possible to make it.

ANSWERS RECEIVED

An answer to the five inquiries recently asked the Utilities Commission by the Chamber, also removed the idea that the city has power to force the gas company to give service under the Miller law.

In his opinion L. G. White, chief engineer of the utilities commissions states: "You will note that the law provides, that the commission shall not authorize the abandonment of service unless that service has been in effect for a five year period. There is no reference, however, in a five year period after expiration of the contract."

Other paragraphs of the reply show that matters of quality and pressure are matters between the two contracting parties and not the commission.

After appointing a sub-committee to arrange a conference with Manager Curtin, the meeting adjourned. The committee is composed of chairmen Brown, L. A. Larsen and Walter Jackson.

One member pointed out that if the Medina company furnished Lima with $50,000,000 cubic feet of gas, as they propose to do if the supply is available, the gas would be under pressure, quantity, and heat units will be satisfied.

BISHOP IS GIVEN GREAT OVATION

Former Pastor of St. John's Celebrates Mass Here

Bishop August J. Schwertner, formerly pastor of St. John's Catholic church, was given a great ovation at St. John's church Sunday, when he returned to Lima to celebrate pontifical mass, after having been elevated to the bishopric of Wichita, Kansas.

Bishop Schwertner celebrated the mass at 10 o'clock, the large church being crowded for the ceremonies. He was assisted by Lima clergy and friends.

An augmented choir sang the music of the mass. At the close of the celebration of the mass, Bishop Schwertner made an address, in which he thanked the people of St. John's, who upon elevation to his new office, had presented him with a beautiful crozier or pastoral staff.

WILL CHERISH REMEMBRANCE He said that when he went to serve distant parishes, when he gazed upon the gift, he would be forcibly reminded of St. John's church, where he had served some years ago. He declared that it would always bring back to him pleasant memories, not only of clergy and the laity of Lima and the people of his former parish, but of non-Catholics, of whom the bishop made very many friends during his pastorate at St. John's.

Bishop Schwertner announced that the diocese of Wichita in extent is as large as the state of Ohio and that it is six times as large as the diocese of Toledo. He declared he realized the responsibilities, but hoped to be able to fill his new office in a pleasing way.

MANY GREET BISHOP

Bishop Schwertner was elevated to the chancery from the pastorate here and then selected by the pope for the bishopric of Wichita because of his excellent efforts in Lima and that after he assumed the office of chancellor.

Hundreds of people called to shake the hand and wish godspeed to him in his new office in the west, at the close of the mass. The reception was held at the rectory of St. John's church.

He left Monday afternoon at 2:10 from Toledo for Wichita, to enter upon his new duties.

VICTORY WON FOR CLOSED SHOP

Railroad Labor Board Rules on Working Agreements

MORE WAGE CUTS SOUGHT

20 Additional Roads Ask to be Included in Reductions

CHICAGO.—(By United Press.)—Advocates of the "closed shop" won a victory before the United States railroad labor board here today.

The board announced that representatives of the majority of men in one craft, may draw up working agreements which will affect all members. Since unionists are in the vast majority, this is a ruling in their favor, it was interpreted.

The decision was handed down in an answer to a query by the employees of the Missouri and Kansas railroad and the Wichita Falls and Northwestern Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express, Employers and Station Workers.

Employers are engaged all over the country in drawing up a new set of working agreements ordered by the railroad board.

The new working agreements are to be formulated in conference with railroad managers.

The board's latest ruling means that only union representatives may sit in and act and speak for all employees.

Representatives of 20 of the largest railroads in the country appeared before the board today to ask that they be included in the recent 12-percent wage cut ruling of the board. The cut only affected some of the smaller roads who threw their cases before the board as a test.

These are some of the roads represented today:

Michigan Central, Erie, Big Four, Illinois Central and Santa Fe.

The wage slash, made in the previous ruling is effective July 1, and affects shop employees, common laborers and maintenance of way workers.

The appearance of the representatives of the roads today is considered a mere formality as there is doubt in railroad circles but that their request will be complied with.

BRICKLAYERS' STRIKE AT CLEVELAND ENDED

CLEVELAND.—More than two thousand striking Cleveland bricklayers returned to work today as a result of an order issued by Thomas Izzard, fourth vice-president of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers' International Union, thru W. K. Bell, president of the local union.

The order calling off the strike and concurring in the recent finding of former Judge F. A. Henry, arbitrator, in awarding the workmen one dollar and four cents an hour, against which the bricklayers struck last week, followed an investigation of the situation by Izzard here recently.

"While we believe the rate of wages is unfair, we feel obliged to stand by the decision of the arbitrator," Izzard said.

TRIAL OF DONOVAN IS OPENED

Alleged Bandit Stages Battle to Escape Conviction

ONE OF RING IS SENTENCED

Mason Protests Innocence, as Court Reads Decree

Counsel for George Donovan, second of the trio of alleged bandits, arrested in Lima after a running gun battle with police on May 21, to be tried, will attempt to prove, according to the statement to the jury Monday, that Donovan was 15 or 20 miles away from Lima at the time of the robbery of the Felt home, near Beaver Dam, on May 13.

Donovan's trial opened with Attorney Francis W. Durbin, Lima; Fredin P. McCarthy, Chicago, and Charles H. Graves, Toledo, as counsel.

Prosecuting Attorney E. T. Lippincott, in making his statement to the jury, said the state would prove Donovan participated in the robbery of the Felt home, assaulted Sam Felt, one of the bachelor brothers, and took $80 from him.

It was 10:05 o'clock before a jury satisfactory to both sides, was secured. The jury is composed of L. O. West, W. W. Taylor, James Kennedy, Chris Lora, Ernest E. John, C. A. Antin, R. J. Bidwell, John J. Surdam, M. L. Mayer, Edward Youngster, E. M. Botkins and T. E. Arnold.

COURT ROOM CROWDED
The court room was crowded to capacity. More than 100 persons stood during the morning to hear the proceedings.

Samuel Felt was the only witness called during the morning. For more than two hours he told of circumstances leading up to the robbery of the Felt home.

With his dry humor and his simple country ways, Felt kept the crowd of spectators in an uproar. Even Judge Becker smiled and counsel for Donovan had many hearty laughs. Felt continually referred to Donovan as "Donahue."

Felt said he and his brother lived three and one-half miles east of Beaverdam, on an 80-acre farm, which Sam owns.

Felt told how on the night of May 13, about 9 o'clock, sun time, someone rapped at the kitchen door. Upon invitation to come in, three strangers entered. They said they were hunting a still and one showed his badge, Felt declared.

Felt said he was reading when the strangers entered and his brother was sitting on a bench, smoking. He declared the only light in the room was provided by a lantern. The strangers shook hands cordially with them upon entrance.

MONEY IS DEMAND
Upon gaining entrance, Felt said the three demanded to be shown where they kept their money, saying they had been informed $50,000 was kept in the house.

He was about to break away for freedom, he told the jury, when a gun in the hands of one whom he said was George Donovan, stopped him. He was then bound in his chair and the man guarded him, Felt testified.

"The gun looked awful big to me and I tell you I didn't make any more after that," Felt said. "That man sitting there (pointing to Donovan) was the one who held the gun," he reiterated.

"They told us they would come back and either kill us or burn our house if we didn't tell where the money was, or if we told any one about the robbery."

DEFENSE PUTS UP BATTLE
The testimony of Felt had only been completed when the hour of adjournment came for dinner. The defense, thru Attorney McCarthy, is fighting the case every inch of the way and it looks as if it would not reach the jury before late Monday night, possibly not running over into Tuesday.

Jacob Felt will take the witness stand to describe in detail the happenings on the night of May 12 when their home was robbed.

Detective R. C. Crisberry and Detective Charles Bilstern were summoned by the state Monday. Others who will testify are Chief of Police Roush and County Detective Roy E. Bowersock.

Donovan's lawyers on Monday subpoenaed David Crittenden and Joseph Close to testify for the defense.

MASON SENTENCED
John Mason, third member of the trio, who was convicted in court last Tuesday of carrying concealed weapons, was sentenced to the penitentiary on Monday.

When asked if he had anything to say, Mason replied, "I'm innocent." Judge Becker sent him to the penitentiary for an indeterminate term.

CONDITION OF ROAD FUNDS IS EXPLAINED BY ACKERMAN BEFORE ALLEN-CO COUNCIL

Allen-co has sufficient money at hand in state and county funds to pay for all road improvement bonds issued and due up to September 1, 1922, C. E. Ackerman, deputy county auditor told members of the Allen-co Roads council Monday. He was invited to appear before the body to explain where Allen-co gets its road money and how much is available.

Just how much money Allen-co can depend on for roads, no one can tell, the council was informed. At present time the county has $3800 in the road repair fund and $90,649.49 exempted road funds that can be used on new contracts.

BRITAIN BRANDED SLAVE HOLDER

Irish Policy Attacked in U. S. Senate by Norris

BACKS FREEDOM MEASURE

Flays Activities of English Military in Ireland

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — Great Britain was branded a "slave holder" for her refusal to grant Ireland independence, by Senator Norris, of Nebraska, in urging adoption of his resolution for Irish freedom, in the senate today.

"It is just as unjust, just as unholy, just as reprehensible for one civilized nation to hold another civilized nation in subjection, as it is for an individual to own the flesh and blood of his fellow being and to sell and to traffic in human slavery," declared Norris.

MILITARY ACTIVITIES
Norris flayed the recent activities of the British military in Ireland and declared that promises of "determination made Ireland by Lloyd George during the war were nullified and Ireland betrayed by the traitors who sat in around the peace table at Versailles."

"The British military forces," Norris declared, "resort to methods that violate every civilized rule of warfare and cannot be defeated before any honest tribunal anywhere."

He defended the methods of warfare of the Irish, declaring Ireland was driven to the practices in self-defense.

Arguments that Irish independence would endanger Great Britain because Ireland may be used as a base to attack England, were ridiculed by Norris. The argument followed to its natural conclusion he declared, means "that England must have under her flag the entire world to protect herself."

HIS APPEAL
"In the name of liberty, for which our forefathers fought," Norris concluded, "I appeal in the name of the silent voice of conscience that breathes forth from the soul of every free man and woman, in the name of Christian civilization, in the name of progress and humanity, I appeal to the senate to express the sentiment of the American people by protesting before a suffering, waiting world against the cruelties being heaped upon the Irish people and demand for their long-suffering but courageous and determined race that by the will of Almighty God the same freedom, the same liberty and the same sacrifices of our forefathers we ourselves enjoy."

SPIRITUAL VALUE WORLD'S HOPE

Coolidge Says Only Divine Power Can Solve Problems

MUST LOOK BEYOND PROFITS

Motive of Righteousness Alone Will Readjust Things

AMHERST, Mass. — (By Associated Press) — Spiritual values are only reliance of the world in trying to meet present problems, Vice-President Calvin Coolidge said in an address at the opening exercises of the centennial celebration of Amherst College today. "The work of the world will not be done," he said, "unless it is done from a motive of righteousness."

After recalling that Amherst College was founded for the purpose of "civilizing and evangelizing the world by the classical education of indigent young men of piety and talent," Vice-President Coolidge said:

GREAT BURDENS
"Individuals and nations are at the present time afflicted with great burdens. As a result of the readjustment which has taken place during the last year, men find their resources very much impaired, with no corresponding reduction of their expenses. Often times both capital and credit have been entirely exhausted. The nations of the earth are struggling under a great load of debt incurred and resulting from the war. The raising of sufficient money to meet the costs of government is a grievous burden."

Some cases, has not yet been found possible.

QUESTION CONFRONTED
"Every question that confronts us on every hand, whether in the consideration of private or public interests is how these burdens can be borne. It can scarcely be said that they should be borne solely in order to secure a resulting prosperity. 'The world must look for some-thing more than prosperity in the present situation. The individual must look for something more than wages and profits for his compensation. Unless this satisfaction can be found by proceeding in the way of right and truth and justice, the search for it will fail. The material things of life, they are not sustained at all. The work of the world will not be done unless it is done from a motive of righteousness."

Matchette's injuries are not believed serious.

HIS NE ARE ASTO

Reese's Remarkment is the Talk

Know Him

"My wonderful improvement talk of all who know me," Reese, of 58 Jackson-ave., Va., in telling of the benefits derived from Tanlac.

"When I started taking Tanlac medicine, for I was so weak I had to have help to get my clothes on. Every year for the past five years I have had an awful attack of grippe, and it certainly caused me terrible suffering. My bronchitis would become so affected that any one in the next room could hear me wheezing, and gasping for breath. People who saw me said that my last spell was the worst they had ever seen, and I didn't think myself I was going to pull thru. Why it just seemed like I would cough myself off, and I had to be propped up with pillows in order to breathe. For months I couldn't take any nourishment except a little hot milk and broth. It's not at all surprising that I felt thirty pounds in weight and was in such a weak condition."

"However my appetite began picking up rapidly as I continued taking Tanlac, and I was soon able to eat about again. I eat good and hearty and enjoy my life now, and am gaining in weight and strength right along. Why, the way I have improved in the short time I have been taking the medicine is just what less than wonderful, and I believe I will soon be up to my old weight and strength. I simply think Tanlac is the best medicine made."

POURING INTO AMERICA

WILL OPEN ALTAR of yellow metal has accumulated in the United States. The value in stored in America on June 1 was Members F. 198, and every day the pile is growing. It is the most colossal accretion of and is $53,149,755 higher than the maximum altitude, that of May 1.

Since the first of this year the nations of the four corners of the earth have shipped more than $300,000,000 of gold to this country. The rate of importation of gold has been in excess of $60,000,000 a month, or practically $2,000,000 a day. Europe has contributed, so far this year, $210,000,000 to our monetary gold supply; North America, $29,000,000; South America, $11,000,000; Asia, $40,000,000. From Australia, Africa and islands of the Pacific ocean $8,000,000 has been received. The totals are swelling as the eyes read these figures.

There is a mystery to this torrent of gold which is puzzling to the wisest and most experienced financiers. What will be the results in the world's commerce? Will benefit accrue to the business of the United States, or will disaster be the consequences?

"Massing of gold generally is indicative of accelerating prosperity and rising prices. Increases of prices generally lead to inflation of credit. As the present gold store mounts higher, however, prices are declining and the prevailing depression is becoming more intense." The accumulation of gold is characteristic of every period of reaction and liquidation, and to the extent that reserves are augmenting there is nothing peculiar to the movement. The exceptional feature is that America is drawing the precious metal from all lands in the world.

America cannot keep this mountain of gold. If it did, there would be such an inflation of credit and such a great rise in prices that the worst commercial and financial cataclysm imaginable would ensue. Business would be wrecked for years. So, we must infer that this immense stock of gold will be one of the vital factors in restoring universal prosperity, and a large portion of it will flow out to all parts of the earth.

The process of liquidation is lowering prices in the United States. Exportation of gold will raise prices in other lands. The general equalization will enable the resumption of international trade, for there will be a common level on which trade among the nations can be conducted.

SCALING THE TOP OF THE WORLD

SCIENTIFIC adventurers are half up Mt. Everest, whose peak is the pinnacle of the world. The crest of Mt. Everest attains a height of 29,002 feet. Exploring parties of the Mt. Everest Expedition report that they have reached an altitude of 14,390 feet, which is the top of the peak. Col. Howard Bury, British army officer, is at the head of the troupe of climbers, most of whom are scientists.

The summit of this famous mountain is said to be the only unexplored region of the earth. In all the ages man has not set foot on the top of the world. From that secluded peak the human eye will, in all probability, be unable to discern anything beneath; it will see the earth and the clouds, yet not beyond the world. Before the end of the year, mankind may receive authentic information of interest about the loftiest spot on the earth's surface, and science will acquire reports of value.

Almost certainly, there are other sections of the world, which, as yet undiscovered, are unknown and remain unexplored. They will be found and some time they will be penetrated. Insatiable thirst for knowledge, love of adventure, maddening curiosity, or some other overwhelming human trait, will lead us to learn all we can of this earthen globe on which we live.

It is a laudable ambition to scale the top of the world. As long as we are urged by the spirit of enterprise, we shall continue to progress. Deeds such as those of Peary in touching the North Pole and Shackleton the South Pole, and Bury in standing on the world's pinnacle, in stupendous space, are evidence of capacity for sacrifice.

SHORT ONES

A FISHERMAN'S tale of his catch and a woman's story of her age are in the same class.

THE "weaker" is always stronger in a word battle between a man and a woman.

ARD index systems are great things, but you must mix a little brains with them to get the best results.

THE man who is always ready to give you a piece of his mind usually has little of the desirable kind to spare.

MOST nations which are talking of disarmament are too busy building battleships to do anything but talk.

THE man who is occupying space enough for three in a street car is not the one who usually gets up to give his seat to the ladies.

IS GOVERNMENT SIMPLE?

BACK is the pre-election days when the hearts of humanity went out to a broken man, who had given his health and soul over to the welfare of his countrymen as well as that of the world and left the President's chair after one of the most strenuous periods ever experienced by any national executive, it was declared that "government is a very simple thing after all."

This statement came from the lips of Mr. Harding, then a candidate for the Presidency and now President. He has occupied the highest position in our land more than three months. He had opportunity to arrange affairs in the interim between election and inauguration. We wonder if Mr. Harding still believes that government is a simple thing.

We believe he has had occasion to change his mind, or will have very soon.

If government is as simple as it was represented, it is taking the administration an amazingly long time to start to straighten out the tangles of domestic and international affairs. The world has not been told what the association of nations will embody; in fact nothing has been explained concerning the plan to take the place of the League of Nations, which was the battle cry in the last campaign.

In addition to the failure of the party leaders to announce its plan for preventing war, other things are lacking. Peace with Germany has not been effected. American troops still keep the watch on the Rhine. None has been able to see an application of the strict economy in government promised. Reduction and simplification of taxes were promised, but the administration is still without a tax program. Normalcy is coming slowly. There were 1,000,000 men out of work when the administration took over the reins. Now there are 5,000,000 without jobs. Nobody can point out a policy of government and say with certainty that here the administration stands.

If government is so very simple it would appear that the time is at hand for the administration to begin to redeem its campaign pledges.

THE RIPPER BILL

GOVERNOR DAVIS has won a decided victory thru the Supreme Court ruling upholding his reorganization bill and denying the right of a referendum on this law. A wide gap has been torn in the provisions voted by the people themselves as a constitutional amendment which were intended to place the matter of government with the public.

The merits of the system as provided in the reorganization measure, aside from the ripper feature, will be determined as time goes on and the manner of its administration is seen. The law creates unlimited patronage and makes the governor practically a czar. It permits of the building up of the greatest political machine in the history of the state.

There has been widespread protest against the emergency clause, which destroys the constitutional rights of the people, not only from democrats, but from a big percentage of republicans as well. It may be that the governor has foisted on the people a thing which will be a boomerang. At least it appears in that light now.

MARJORIE

The house is as it was when she was here,
There's nothing changed at all about the place;
The books she loved to read are waiting near
As if tomorrow they would see her face,
Her room remains the way it used to be,
Here are the puzzles that she pondered on:
Yet since the angels called for Marjorie
The joyous spirit of the home has gone.
All things grew lovely underneath her touch,
The room was bright because it knew her smile,
From her the tiniest trinket gathtered much,
The cheapest toy became thing worth while,
Yet here are her possessions as they were,
No longer joys to set the eyes aglow;
Today, as we, they seem to mourn for her,
And share the sadness that is ours to know.
Half sobbing now, we put her games away
Because, dumb things, they cannot understand
Why never more shall Marjorie come to play,
And we have faith in God at our command.
These toys we smiled at once, now start our tears,
They seem to wonder why they lie so still,
They call her name, and will thrum-
ble the years,
God strengthen us to bow unto Thy will.

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

This is a very unlucky day. Again there are rumors of war and a possibility of agitation concerning the army and navy. The stars indicate that this is not a lucky wedding day, and that marriages performed on this day may lead to many quarrels. There may be much talk of scandal during the summer, in which even the biggest national figures may be involved. Women should be very careful at this time and should postpone carrying out important plans until later. Persons whose birthday this is should be careful to avoid arousing antagonism especially in business transactions. Children born on this day will be clever and industrious, but they may also be extremely hot-tempered and temperamental.

HEALTH HINTS

One of the popular myths is that drinking water which is very hard, by reason of a high calcium or lime content, is a factor of premature hardening of the arteries. An exceptionally hard drinking water contains as much as three or four grains of lime in a gallon. Few persons drink more than a gallon of water a day. Everybody who takes at least one square meal a day takes several times as much lime as a gallon of the hardest drinking water would contain. In the form of such lime-rich foods as milk, cheese, eggs, cabbage, turnips, prunes, oranges, beans, oatmeal, peanuts, almonds, chocolate, carrots and other cereals, fruits and vegetables. Even tho it may be true that calcium or lime salts are deposited in the wall of the artery in the late or advanced stage of arteriosclerosis or hardening of the arteries, that should not be misapprehended. It is rather a secondary occurrence and not a primary one. If there is any fault in the calcium or lime intake of the ordinary civilized man it is rather a deficiency of lime in his food and drink. In certain instances there may be good reason for avoiding the drinking of hard and using distilled water or other soft water instead, but only when the patient's physician deems it necessary. As a general rule, no matter how hard the water may be or how much lime it may contain, we need not worry about any fancied ill effects from drinking it freely.

Ah, June, what fragrance on the breezes bloom From dewy flowers and from woodland dells. I hear the elfins ring their mellow bells Among the leafy boughs; and all alone The spring puris, tricking down those rocks o'er-grown With velvet moss; while yonder, harken, wells The brooklet's song, and in the distance swells The cataract's muffled thunder and the groan The pines make when they bend before a blast. The songs I kept repressed here in my heart Are being sung by all the birds at last. Ah, may they never from these wilds depart Until the mountains topple and the sun Grows cold, and man's work on the earth is done.

THE FLAVOR LASTS!

THE LAST ROSE OF SUMMER

By RUPERT HUGHES

Meldrum's cynicism had been strangely opportune to the despondent old maid. He unwittingly helped her over a deep ditch and got her out of a bad night.

But when she woke the next morning was but the same old day. Poverty was but the same old day. Poverty, loneliness and the inability of a useless household were again her portion. The face she washed every morning after the men. The hair she combed and wadded on her crown. She even murmured, "This is so sudden, and I'll have to ask mama."

It was an epoch-making decision, a terrible leap from the stagnant pool of the Larrabee cottage to the seething maelstrom of Shillaber's Bazaar. She went home to her mother, with the thrilling, glorious news that henceforth she could acquire all of five dollars a week by merely being present at Shillaber's, for twelve hours or so a day, except Saturdays when the store was open evenings till the last possible customer had gone home to bed. Mrs. Larrabee apologized to heaven for doubting its watchfulness, commended Asaph Shillaber to its attention, and bespoke for him a special invoice of blessings.

And Asaph went home to his mid-day dinner as cheerfully as if he had received them. First he announced the good word about Meldrum's leniency, which Josie greeted with, "You see! I told you that the party would be the proper caper. Maybe after this you'll believe that your wife knows a thing or two."

Asaph assured her that he would never doubt that she knew at least that much. Then, like the wag he was, he said that he had added a new clerk to his staff—a lady and a beauty, whose charms would draw no end of custom to his store and dazzle the drummers from far and near.

Deborah's father had said that his daughter was cheered by the fact that he had left his widow and his child several shares of that soulful corporation's stock. He called it the "Angel Gabriel and St. Peter Railway." The dividend was as sure as the flowers in June. It had never failed, and the Larrabee women always spent it before it was paid. They had pledged it this year.

If they had followed the stock market, of which they had hardly heard, they would have known that the railroad's shares had fallen from $35 to $1 in two years and that the concern was curving gracefully toward a receivership. The two women breakfasted that morning on cold dismay and hot flashes of terror. The few hundred dollars that had come to them like a semi-annual manna and quails would not drop down this year, perhaps not next year, or ever again. Their creditors would probably throw them into the town jail. The poorhouse would be in paradise.

In her distraction Debby had an impulse to consult Newt Meldrum. She hurried to Shillaber's Bazaar, hoping he might be there. Asaph met her himself and told her that Newt had gone back to New York on an early train. Debby broke down and told of her plight. She supposed that she would have to go to work at once somewhere. But what could she do?

Asaph was feeling amiable; he had won a reprieve from Meldrum and had made it up with his wife in private for the public quarrel. His heart melted at the thought of helping poor old Debby, whom everybody was fond of in a nately flattering way. He had helped other gentlemen in distress, and he was dumbfounded Debby by saying "Why don't you clerk here, Debby?"

"Why, I couldn't clerk in a store!" she gasped, terrified. "I don't know the least thing about it."

"You'd soon learn the stock, and the prices are all marked in plain letters that you can memorize easy. You've got a lot of friends, and we give a commission on all the sales over a certain amount. Better try it."

Debby felt now, for the first time, all the sweet panic that most women undergo with their first proposal. This offer of the job of saleswoman being offered to Debby had come to her as a bolt from the blue. She even murmured, "This is so sudden, and I'll have to ask mama."

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

By PHYLIS PHILLIPS

"Mothers-in-law," reflected Cherry bitterly, as soon as she had settled herself in a chair on the veranda, "are funny people. I'll say. I feel sometimes as tho I had only a part interest in my own husband. I wish to goodness I had never seen Wellsburg, or even Ned. I'd have been much happier, I know."

But it was not very long before Ned came out to her, and sat down and put his arms round her hungrily. "Simply couldn't resist that invitation of yours, ladybird," he confessed, as he kissed her on the lips again and again. "Mother seems to have an eternal problem on her hands about nothing. I get so tired of never having a minute to myself that sometimes I feel as if I could burst. I just feel cooped up, hammered down, hateful!"

"That's just the way I feel, too, Neddy boy," said Cherry, a sob in her voice. "I'm quite unnecessary in this household. I just know it. And I feel so lonely at times that I would love to catch the very first train for old Chi and never, never come back!"

"Why, ladybird, how you talk," said Ned reproachfully. "Go away and leave me and never see your Ned again." Here he hugged her to him with all his might.

"Yes," answered Cherry. "You'd not miss me long, I'm sure. There are so many people in this house and maybe you'd be glad, after all, I can't stand this sort of life much longer, darling. It's so dull, so useless, somehow. Housework, even if I had jobs of it, would not fill every hour of an active minded woman's day. It just couldn't with me. And I wouldn't be like your mother even Josie's facile temper flashed at once into glow. One of her chief interests in the bazaar had been to make sure that she never harbored any saleswoman whose beauty could possibly lure her husband's mind from his ledger, or his home ties. Under the pretext of purchases or suggestions she made frequent tours of inspection, and it was too young or a pair of eyes too bright gleamed behind a counter Asaph heard of it at once. Some years before, he had bowed to the inevitable and made it a rule to engage no woman who could imaginably disturb Josie's delicate equanimity.

Meldrum had noticed the strange array and had been inclined to impute the decline in the store's prosperity to the appearance of its staff. "Good Lord, Asa!" he had groaned. "What you got here—the overflow of the Home for the Aged and Indigent Females? You've collected a bunch of clock-stoppers that makes a suffragette meeting look like a Winter Garden chorus. People like those can't sell pretty things. Send 'em all to the bonnyard and get in some winners."

Asaph promised and Meldrum promised to arrange an extension of credit. But Asaph would have feared bankruptcy less than such a step. As soon as Meldrum was gone he put the cap-sheaf to his little army of relics and remnants by engaging Debby Larrabee. She made the rest look handsome by contrast.

She was the joke that he tried to spring on his wife. Josie took the allusion seriously, and Asaph was soon trying to hold her down.

"Wait! Wait till you hear who it is!" he pleaded, but she stormed on. "I don't care who it is. I'm not going to have you exposed to the wiles of any of these designing mixxes. I won't have her, I tell you."

BOY IS SELFISH, GIRL COMPLAINS

Beaux Fail to Invite Her Out for Amusement, She Says.

Dear Miss Smart:—I wouldn't mind that so much but my mother and I have been very nice to him and have even invited him to come to see me very frequently for three months and in all that time he has not invited me to go to the movies or a dance or one single place.

THE young man is certainly very inconsiderate and selfish, but, of course, since invitations are supposed to be voluntary, it would not be in good taste for you to suggest that he take you to some place of amusement.

Since he is so unappreciative of your kindness, it would be wise for you to cease extending your hospitality to him in the future. Do not give him so much of your time but share it with your other friends, especially those who will invite you out to the movies, dances, et cetera. If he sees that other young men enjoy your company and are considerate of your pleasures, perhaps he will realize how selfish and thoughtless he has been.

Dear Miss Smart:—

(1) Would you please tell me at what age a young girl and young man can get married in Monroe, Mich., without their parents' consent? (2) What is the cut fare from Lima to Monroe?

INGENUITY

(1) They must both be 18 years of age to be married without their parents' consent. (2) About $2.75.

Dear Miss Smart:—

I am a young girl of 17 and two months ago I met a very fine and steady young man. We have been going together ever since and have learned to know very fond of each other. Several evenings ago he proposed to me and I was very much in love with him so you see my acquaintance has been very short and that I am too young to accept his proposal.

CURLY

Even if you were older, an acquaintance of two months is very short to enable you to make such a serious decision. You are very young to be engaged and it will be much wiser for you to wait a year or two before you give this man your promise.

Society News

Great interest is being demonstrated in the bridge tournament to be held at Shawnee Country Club, starting Thursday of this week. Many have expressed their desire to attend and the tournament will, no doubt, be successful as well as enjoyable.

Mrs. Clinton Sealt is chairman of the Women's Entertainment committee with the following on the committee: Mrs. Homer Hughes, Mrs. Henry Densel, Jr., Mrs. Virgil Knisely and Mrs. Fred E. Gooding. Mrs. W. L. Parmenter, wife of the president of the club, will assist while Mrs. C. F. Lufkin will direct the playing.

Playing will be held every Thursday afternoon and at the end of four weeks, the one holding high score, will receive a cup to be given by Mrs. Virgil Knisely, while the one holding second will receive an appropriate gift to be donated by Mrs. Homer Hughes.

All wishing to enter the tournament are asked to be present at the luncheon Thursday at 12.30 p. m. promptly. If this tournament proves successful, several other series will be held during the fall months.

Miss Leona Gerber and Melvin L. Jontz, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jontz, New Hampshire, were united in marriage Sunday at high noon at the home of the bride's uncle, A. J. Welty, St. Elizabeth.

The Rev. Kyle Booth was the officiating minister and preceding the ceremony, Walter Grubb sang "Because," with Miss Ethel Ann Cline as accompanist. Miss Eulalia Ann Steiner then played Lohengrin's Wedding March which announced the arrival of the bride. The single ring ceremony was used and the bride was attended by Miss Hester Jontz, sister of the bride-groom and Miss Dorothy Welty, who were attired in dainty organza frocks. The ceremony took place before an improvised altar of roses and palm. The recessional was Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

The bride was attractive in a lovely white tulle gown. She wore a long lace veil and her corsage was of bride's roses and sweet peas.

A wedding breakfast followed and the dining room was artistically decorated in pink and white. Roses formed a center piece at the table where covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Jontz, Mr. and Mrs. George Welty, New Hampshire; Mr. and Mrs. Elias Welty, Mr. and Mrs. Will Luginbill, Bluffton; Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Welty, Rev. and Mrs. Kyle Booth and daughter Helen Elaine, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Coon, Misses Eulalia Ann Steiner, Hester Jontz, Reinah Cline, Erma Schneck, Dorothy, Ruth and L. Boggs and Mrs. A. T. Lego holding high scores, the hostess served a dainty lunch. Guests were Mrs. Frank Foutz, Mrs. D. G. Fetter, who was admitted as a new member. Mrs. A. T. Lego was presented a pretty gift in celebration of her birthday anniversary.

Next meeting will be held in a fortnight with Mrs. Myrtle Boggs, 637 S. Main-st.

What promises to be one of the largest and most enjoyable of the Stroller's dances will be that of Friday evening at McBeth Park. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock and continue thru until midnight. Music will be furnished by a popular local orchestra.

"Ducks and Drakes" and "A Message From Mars" Are Warmly Praised.

(By ESTHER WAGNER)

HERE is Lesson One on how to bring up a very pretty baby. And judging by the picture "Ducks and Drakes" it seems that of one is to bring up a pretty baby at all, one should let her have her own way—the theory being that after she gets what she wants, she doesn't want it.

The baby in the case under discussion is Bebe Daniels, who as Teddy Simpson, is beset by an Auntie Weeks. And Auntie, deeply interested in the welfare of her lively charge, makes the fatal mistake of trying to enforce discipline.

Because Teddy takes to discipline like a cat takes to water she is compelled to spend much of her time in her own room. To amuse herself, Teddy invents a new game, which consists in opening the telephone book, saying "hocus pocus" or something and picking up a number. Then she calls the number.

chances, in the delightful manner of picture, the men she calls on the phone turn out to be good fellows and bosom friends of her fiancé. Oh, I forgot to tell you she is engaged! She is, but she objects to her Roy because he is so exemplary and her argument is: "Why should I marry you when you're hanging around all the time, trying to get me to marry you, eh?" (pretty good argument, eh?)

Fearing that if he left too long to her devices she might chance upon devoting wolves her Roy and his friends set out to teach her a lesson. Then follows the rest of the picture, which you can see for yourselves.

"Ducks and Drakes" is frothy, expensively gotten up well put on and directed and most pleasingly acted. Jack Holt, declares, is the leading man. And you can't find a better way to pass an hour than in seeing this production.

At the Faurot today only.

A MESSAGE FROM MARS

THE text of this little sermon is "It is more blessed to give than to receive" which the producers of "A Message from Mars" have utilized to amazingly good effect in the production.

Horace Parker, an amateur scientist, was simply crammed with conceit, selfishness and affection, and because he had so much money, he got away with it. Had he been poor, like you and me, he would have had his face punched and felt better.

Mr. Parker had been requested by gentlemen interested in science to back a certain "amplifier" which it was thought communication would be established with the planet Mars.

You will be one of the great men of our nation. Your name will be in all the papers. They tell him of which listens good to the ecstatic Horace. He promises to back the project, if they will name the invention the "Horace Parker Amplifier," therefore bagging all the credit. The scientists agree. Horace starts home.

A poor man accosts him, begging him for money with which to buy food for his starving wife, but Horace gives not, and after being nasty about several other things, he is left to himself and falls asleep, which is where the armored messenger from Mars appears, and starts out to teach him a thing or two about charity, etc. and so well does he succeed that before the night is over er, Horace P. has his house full of outcasts, and he himself, has resolved to forget about self in his efforts to make others happy.

The picture, made from the play by Richard Ganthony, has a high moral and is so well done that you resolve never to venture down town without a few nickels and dimes for charity; you wonder drastically whether you haven't some discarded clothes which could be fixed over for some one less fortunate, as you resolve to find out what are the visiting hours at the hospitals.

That's how it affects you? Bert Lyell is splendid as Horace, while Miss Raye Lean as the fiancée is acceptable.

"A Message from Mars" is good entertainment besides the sermon it preaches. And aren't there people by the dozens who need a little selfishness? We'll say there are! At the Signa until Thursday.

Q.—What was the name of the first motion picture which was longer than one reel?

A.—This was a three reel play, "Christopher Columbus." It was produced in Chicago by Selig and directed by Marshall Siedman. The motion picture fans were not ready for multiple reel pictures at that time and it proved a flat failure, almost bankrupting the producers.

Q.—What motion picture and stage star was married at the age of 14 and a widow at 16?

A.—Madame Olga Petrova who is now happily married for the second time to an American physician. Her New York address is 125 W. 40th St.

Q.—To whom is Kathryn Williams married?

A.—Kathryn, who is one of the very early movie actresses, is known in private life as Mrs. Charles Eytan.

Q.—Who was the original comedy cop of the movies?

A.—This honor is said to belong to Al. St. John whose movie career dates back to the Keystone-Triangle days. Al now lives at 4411 Victoria Park Pl., Los Angeles, Cal.

Q.—To whom is Jack Mulhall married?

A.—Jack's wife is Laura Buntin whom the older film fans will remember one of the old Biograph favorites.

How many families can you name which have three or more of their members in the movies? Look for a list of them in this department tomorrow. The Movie Secrets Editor of this paper will answer our questions if you will give him your name and address.

IT'LL BE PRETTY SOFT FOR POLICE JERSEY CITY.—Every usher in the arena where Carpenter meets Dempsey on July 2, will have a burly policeman as a companion to see if they hold their place in the places which correspond to their ticket stubs. This precaution was part of a plan evolved today by Tex Rickard, Mayor Hague and police officials, to secure order and protection for fight patrons.

A veritable army of policemen,

cruited from neighboring towns,
while 200 detectives from all over the country who are expert in the business of recognizing pick-pockets, will be on hand to conduct all gentle and that profession beyond the

DEMPSEY GOES A COUPLE OF ROUNDS WITH FORMER LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMP JACK O'BRIEN

(BY JACK DEMPSEY)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—The moving picture folks came out Sunday afternoon and I put on a few extra stunts for them in the matter of training. One of them was rope skipping and, after I'd tried it for about 15 minutes, I guess everybody was willing to admit that George Carpentier has it all over me in the matter of skipping.

Four fast rounds with four different boxers constituted the main work of the day. I started off with Eddie O'Hara, the middleweight and, as usually he gave me plenty of exercise. He was in and out and away like a phantom and the work with him gave me a lot of practice in hitting lying targets.

Then came Philadelphia, Jack O'Brien the veteran, stripped for action and was looking more than 10 pounds away from the condition he knew 10 years or so ago.
When he was light heavyweight champion of the world, Jack asked to work out for a round with me and I consented gladly.

JACK SHOWS SPEED
I didn't know how to go about things when they called time.
Should I sail into Jack, or should I go easy with him? I didn't have to wait long for the answer.
The old-time, while he was with the speed of a cyclone and about three seconds the air became full of flying gloves. I didn't expect him to show anything like that and for half minute or so I had to fiddle around trying to gauge him.

All the while Jack was attacking and with the old-time vigor.
That fellow surely is a wonder yet, and I can easily appreciate now why he was a terror in the days of his real greatness. He showed a splendid defense, a very tricky attack, and whenever I reached out in the early part of the round for a smack at his nose he ducked or side-stepped, or felt into a saving clinch.

O'BRIEN WOULD HELP
We were going at it right merrily, and I was just beginning to solve Jack's method when Teddy Hayes ended the fun with a call of time. I'm sorry that Jack isn't sufficiently active in ring warfare now to serve as a regular sparring partner. What a wonderful help he would be.

After O'Brien came Larry Williams for a round, and then I took on Jack Renault. I'd hoped that maybe Battling Chese would be eager to try things again today, but after the negro got into the ring harness he asked whether I wouldn't postpone his workout. I did.

ENGAGES IN SHOVING
When the boxing was over O'- Brien and I engaged in a shoving contest, and I guess I learned what you would call the popular decision. That's a form of exercise which consists of standing in wrestlers' attitude. You put one hand on the other fellow's chest, he puts a hand on yours.

You shove.

The one that shoves the other fellow away is the winner of that shove. Each shoving contest consists of about 100 different shoves. I didn't have much trouble shoving Jack around and a half dozen times I lifted him off his feet. Several times I shoved him back against the ropes and once, with an extra hard shove,
I sent him spinning backward and he went to his back on the floor.
It was great exercise and I'd like to have kept it up for about ten minutes but Terry again called time just when things were getting interesting.

LOSING WEIGHT

The sun was broiling hot this afternoon and the fast workouts, plus the heat, were mighty helpful to me. I guess I shed a pound or more today, and, if the heat continues, I'll be in the fighting form by the end of the week.
Chese, by the way, promises me a workout on Monday which he guarantees will take off another pound or two. And I'm hopeful that he goes through with his threat and puts up a stiff mixup. That's what I need more than anything else right now.

Champion's Defense Is His Perfect Offense

By JACK MAULIFFE.

(UNDEFEATED LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPION.)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Jack Dempsey can be hit and Carpentier will hit him. I have placed a little wager of one hat that the Frenchman will hit him first.

The champion has no defense—but strange as it may sound,
he has the best defense, a perfect offense.

Against Fulton, Morris, Willard and the other big ones he tore in with his fists flying so fast
he didn't need to know anything about blocking because his opponent didn't get a chance to counter.

As I said, I think Carpentier will hit him first and hit him many times, but I don't believe the Frenchman has enough to topple him over.

The champion has one bad habit.
His work on the stage and in the movies has taught him a little burlesque boxing. He also has a bad habit of half turning and walking away at close quarters.

Dempsey also looks like he has trouble in avoiding a left jab.

GEORGES TRAINS LIKE BILLIARD MASTER.
A question often asked at the training camp of Georges Carpentier is—Why doesn't he let out his punches and drop a few sparring partners? This query probably was prompted by the nature of the work done at the Dempsey camp in Atlantic City, where Jack has bowled over quite a few of his workout opponents. Only once during his training has Georges really shown all his strength and speed. This was in the sparring session with Big Joe

Jeanette two weeks ago.
Jeanette was a man that day for the Frenchman's flying right hand and after thirty seconds of sparring he caught one on the jaw and fell heavily to the ring floor. Georges beated his garden and slowed down.
That flash has not been repeated.
There is nothing of the spectacular
in the sparring sessions.

The reason for this sort of training is no longer a secret. From the camp has come the information that Georges is being trained something after the fashion of a chess master or a billiardist. Explaining what he meant by this, the informant, who asked that his identity be withheld, said:

"Willie Hoppe knows all about the game of billiards. He knows he can Dempsey'll be there sometime July 1
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Jack Dempsey will not fight Jersey City for his world's heavyweight championship battle with Georges Carpentier July 2, until perhaps 24 hours before the contest, according to plans announced today by Jack Kearns, manager of the champion.
Dempsey will remain here in his training quarters until late in the afternoon of the preceding day.

Kearns has arranged to have Dempsey and his immediate handlers spend the night before the battle in the quiet of a private home in Jersey City, instead of going to a hotel. Dempsey will be kept in seclusion from the time he reaches the background until the time for him to go to the arena on "Boyle's Thirty Acres."

Kearns will have charge of his protégé's corner as he has always had in previous championship encounters. Dempsey's seconds probably will be Teddy Hayes, his "pal"
and Trainer Jack Renault and Larry Williams, heavyweight sparring partners; Joe Benjamen and "Mike" Creant, the Chicago detective sergeant who has been the champion's constant companion in the training camp here. Bernard Dempsey, also may assist in handling his brother.

LEAGUE LEADERS ARE HOLDING THEIR OWN
Despite the close major league pennant races, a 500 pace has ensued the Pittsburgh Nationals and Cleveland Americans to retain their top places in the intersectional series ending Sunday.

The Pirates, playing at home,
could win only six of 15 games and lost the leadership for a few days to the runner-up New York Club, which has a record of seven victories and eight defeats. The Indians took seven of their 15 games
in the East, while their nearest rival,
New York, cut down their lead by winning 10 games out of 17.

In the National League, the St. Louis Cardinals, after the loss of their pitcher, have been losing well and, aided by heavy

When Carpentier "Wades In" He Loses His Debonair Manner

Three views of Carpentier showing him as Dempsey will see him.
At left he is walking in, taking one on his left arm to slip over his right. At right he is crouched ready to spring and land his left.
Below is a closeup of his fighting face.

When Carpentier swings into real action in his training—when he approaches the mental state he'll be in when he tackles Jack Dempsey, he throws off his debonair air which has caused many persons to under-rate his worth as a real fighter. He goes in to do damage and with his wind set on one thing—to slip over the telling wallop. These three glimpses of him give a good idea of Carpentier, the fighter—whatever he may be his showing against Dempsey.

MAJOR SLUGGERS SUFFER SLIGHT SLUMP WITH ASH

Babe Ruth and Wee Dickie Kerr, White Sox pitcher, share the honors in the American league averages released Saturday, which include games of Wednesday, for Babe broke all hitting records and Kerr stopped the mighty slugger when he seemed on an endless home run streak.

Ruth shattered all records by driving out seven homers in five games,
one establishing a new work for distance, its estimated length being 470 feet, and gathered enough shorter hits to bring his average from .349 to .675. This placed him well to the front in the players who have been in 50 or more games. Then he faced Kerr and his home run streak was broken. Ruth had 23 homers up to Wednesday and was 16 days ahead of last season's mark.

SLUGGERS SUFFER SLUMP.
All the leaders of a week ago suffered slight batting slumps except Harry Heilmann, of Detroit, who lost nine points, but continued to hold the lead with a mark of .431.
While this Speaker, pilot of the Cleveland world's champions, continued to be the runner-up with .414, despite the fact he dropped three points. Ty Cobb, lost seven notches and is behind Spoke with .394, while George Sisler, the St. Louis star, is trailing the Chicago pitcher with .390.
Eight points below last week's mark.

The St. Louis star, however, broke up the merry race for stolen base honors which Rich and Harris of Washington were having a week ago.
Sisler has passed the pair and is leading with 11 thefts. The Washington pair failed to add to their string during the past week, and have a down each.

Other leading batters. Severeld,
St. Louis; Williams, St. Louis, .375;
Ruth, New York .375; Wirt, Philadelphia .366; R. Jones, Detroit .360, Charity, Washington .358; E. Collins, Chicago .353.

McHENRY IS STEEPING.
Austin McHenry, the slugging outfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals, is making rapid strides toward the top among the National league batters, and is pushing his teammate, Rogers Hornsby, for the lead. Hornsby suffered a slight slump in hitings, and dropped from 424 a week ago to 416, which retains for him the lead, however. McHenry boosted his average from .382 to .401, only fifteen points behind Hornsby. Leslie Mann and Jacques Fournier, two other Cardinals, went on batting rambages during the week, the former tacking on twenty-six points for an average of .388 while the Frenchman advanced eighteen points for fourth place, with an average of .388.

Emil Meusel, the slugging Philadelphia outfielder is topping the National league circuit drive hitters, with eleven round trip smashes, having added one to his string during the past week Max Carey, the fleet-footed Pittsburgh outfielder, is showing his old time form on the paths and has snatched the lead from Frisch of New York for stolen base honor having pilfered three sacks in the last week and now has a total of 13 while the New Yorkers is trailing with 12.

OTHER .300 HITTERS.
Other leading batters: Hargrave,
Cincinnati .363; Young, New York
.362; Maranville, Pittsburgh .358;
Bressler, Cincinnati .357; Timmer,
Pittsburgh .353; Grimm, Chicago
.351; J. Miller, Philadelphia .348;
Tolhurst, Brooklyn .346; Meusel,
Philadelphia .346; Sullivan, Chicago
.346.

The pitchers of the American Association have put a crimp in the batting averages of Butler of Kansas City, who has dropped from .441 a week ago to .418. He still leads the league, however. Hanson, of Milwaukee, also slumped out continues his position as runner-up to the Kansas City slugger, with an average of .392, while Lear, another Milwaukee, remained in third place with
.380 despite a slight falling off in hitting. Bald of Indianapolis fared well with the stick and boosted himself to fourth place with a mark of .339.

Indians Chase 'Em
CLEVELAND.—Cleveland defeated Detroit 8 to 7, in Cleveland today, in which Cleveland won the first three pitchers and Detroit four. Detroit drove Coveleskie from the box in the fourth inning.
In the seventh Sutherland and Oldham issued four passes, which, combined with two hits, netted four runs, and placed Cleveland in the lead. Score.

Independents Down Kenton All-Star Aggregation

Lady Luck deserted the Kenton All-professionals here Sunday afternoon and the Independents walked up and down their frames for a 6 to 3 score. Unlike in a previous game between these two teams, the locals did not get careless in the final frame, and allow the visitors to beat them to the wire. Halloran's crew played sweet ball thruout the contest, and after once swinging into the lead, there was very little chance of dropping the game.

Nugan, Lima second baseman, made the only mistake perpetrated by the Independents, and there was nothing serious. After he had knocked down a high line drop, Nugan in an attempt to work exceedingly fast, overthrew first base. The Kenton team made two errors.

Because of their victory over the local recently, the Kenton aggregation entered the lot Sunday as full of confidence as a hound dog is fierce. This spirit was greatly improved, too, when that opened the contest by slapping two score scores along side their name. The local got a quarter in the second.
The third inning went nothing and nothing.

LOCALS TAKE LEAD
Then, the nine from Kenton moved their total up to three in the fourth frame. This was enough for the locals, who, staging the w. k.
and, drove around the bases with four additional runs, bring their total to five. A two point lead over the visitors. Then, while Wildfelter was holding the Kentons unless for the remainder of the game, the Independents added another tally, and the game finished, 6 to 3.

A bit of a surprise was pulled when Marty Neu, former Lima keystone sacker, donned the mask and mitt, and worked behind the bat.
To Marty goes a wonderful lot of credit for the showing which has been made by the Kenton team. A good team, and a hard fighting one,
but outlasted thruout by the machine Halloran and Callahan have gathered together to represent Lima.

Ferguson, Kenton centerfielder, had a large day, Sunday, going away out of his territory to camp under wicked drives from the bats of the homeguard.

The score by innings:
Kenton 200 100 000 3 7 2
Lima 010 400 10x 6 10 1
Batteries: Furnier and Neu; Wil-falter and Ruben.
Umpires: Lawlor and Jackson.

NOTES OF THE GAME
The game was the longest in the matter of time that has been played by the home team this season, taking two hours and a quarter for the nine frames. Furnier pitching for the Kenton tribe has the slowest movement of any athlete we have seen perform for a long time and at times becomes tiresome to everyone.

Krause who played his first game for Lima covered the middle garden
here this week.

Continental Beats Lima Picked Team

A picked team from Lima met the Continental baseball team on the North Creek diamond, Sunday afternoon, as the stellar attraction in the annual festival held by the Catholic church of North Creek.

The Lima team came out at the short end of the score, Continental winning 6 to 5.

The object of the festival was to secure funds for placing a roof on the large North Creek church and to paint the exterior and re-decorate the interior. An old-fashioned, country dinner was served thruout the day and evening, in women of the church under a huge tent. Ice cream, straw-berries and fruit was served in two other tents.

Three Golf Crowns Will Be Decided CHICAGO.—Three championships will be decided in golf tournaments
here this week.

On Tuesday teams from nine western colleges will start play at Indian Hill club for the western intercollegiate team championship and follow with the individual title event.
Teams are entered from Northwestern, Chicago, Illinois, Drake, Michigan, Ohio State, Indiana, Missouri and Lewis Institute.

Bob Mcicker, the trans-Mississippi champion and P. Dickinson will represent Drake, which is a favorite.
The team championship will be at 36 holes and the 32 low scorers will qualify for the individual title.

The Chicago district golf championship tournament starts Thursday at Flossmoor and Friday teams from Cleveland, St. Louis and Cincinnati will play at St. Louis in the annual intercity event.

B. R. C. OF A. MEETING
An important meeting of Lodges 755 and 386 will be held Monday evening, June 20th at 7:30 at Court House. Brother J. F. Tharp of Cincinnati has important matters to bring up on state legislation.

Burke Likes Jack

Martin Burke, sparring partner of Dempsey:
"Dempsey will win, of course. He is the hardest hitter the ring has known. I ought to know as I have been on the receiving end of a lot of his wallopings. I toured the country with him after he won the title with Willard and boxed with him in exhibition bouts. He has improved 100 percent since he won the championship. They say Carpentier is the fastest boxer in the world. He has to be, for just as soon as Jack gets to him, it will be all over."

MUTT AND JEFF—SOME CLASS T OJOE'S NEW BILLIARD P ARLOR

BRINGING UP FATHER

By McManus

SHORT SHAVINGS

Mother and daughter met in the living room just after breakfast and daughter remarked:

"Father went off in a good humored way."

"Heaven!" exclaimed the mother suddenly remembering. "That reminds me. I forgot to ask him for any money."

A lawyer tells of a policeman whose evidence was taken on commission and who deposed as follows: "The prisoner sat on me, calling me a boob, a fool, a bonehead, a child-snatcher, an old woman and a half-witted guy."

"Here is that suit I bought of you last week," said the angry customer to the tailor. "You said you would return my money if it was not satisfactory."

U. S. MERCHANT SHIPS IDLE

(By International News Service) NEWPORT NEWS, Va.—Swinging with the tide in a sheltered and landlocked harbor, four hundred million dollars worth of merchant ships ride idly at anchor in the James river.

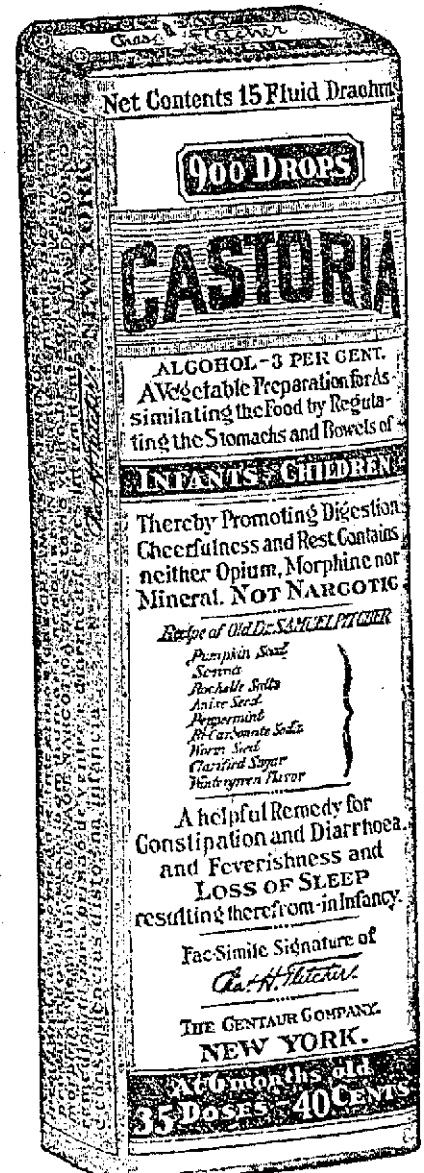

These ships are vessels built by the United States Shipping Board during the war, and for which there is now no use. Two hundred and fifty of the craft are built of wood and one hundred and eighty-five are of iron and steel. Captain F. J. Walcott is custodian of this nautical graveyard, but insists that it is a storehouse and not a graveyard. The wooden ships are in first class shape and ready for action. Captain Walcott declares, he further states that the $200,000,000 Uncle Sam spent on the wooden ships was not thrown away, but that a use will be found for the vessels. Machinery has been removed from most of the ships and sent to Norfolk, where it has been properly oiled and stowed away in Government warehouses. Decks have been painted with liberal coats of paint and canvas and rigging have been likewise cared for. The craft are anchored in units of seven each and dot the river for many miles. Some shipping experts claim that because of limited tonnage the vessels cannot be operated profitably. Swaying in the gentle swell of the river these vessels seem a wealth of the submarine warfare. Their future is undetermined. Congress may settle it.

Shame on Them.

PERHAPS there are a few mothers who do not know the virtues of Fletcher's Castoria. Perhaps there are a few who know that there are imitations on the market, and knowing this demand Fletcher's. It is to ALL motherhood, then, that we call attention to the numerous imitations and counterfeits that may be set before them.

It is to all motherhood everywhere that we ring out the warning to beware of the "Just-as-good". For over thirty years Fletcher's Castoria has been an aid in the upbuilding of our population; an aid in the saving of babies.

And yet there are those who would ask you to try something new. Try this. Try that. Even try the same remedy for the tiny, scarcely breathing, babe that you in all your robust womanhood would use for yourself. Shame on them.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Your Friend, the Physician. The history of all medicines carries with it the story of battles against popular beliefs: fights against prejudice; even differences of opinion among scientists and men devoting their lives to research work; laboring always for the betterment of mankind. This information is at the hand of all physicians. He is with you at a moment's call be the trouble trifling or great. He is your friend, your household counselor. He is the one to whom you can always look for advice even though it might not be a case of sickness. He is not just a doctor. He is a student to his last and final call. His patients are his family and to lose one is little less than losing one of his own flesh and blood. Believe him when he tells you—as he will—that Fletcher's Castoria has never harmed the littlest babe, and that it is a good thing to keep in the house. He knows. MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

$50,000 VALUE OF TIME SPENT, IN JAIL

CHICAGO — David R. Chittenden a $10,000 a-year executive, suffered mental anguish at the rate of $200 a minute while under arrest here recently.

He placed this value on his sufferings when he filed suit for $50,000 damages against his wife, Mrs. Nellie M. Chittenden, blaming her for his arrest. He was held four hours in the Sheriff's office.

Mrs. Chittenden had previously brought suit for separate maintenance alleging her husband had become infatuated with an unnamed woman. A writ issued in her suit was given to deputy sheriffs to serve. They took Chittenden into custody and held him for four hours before he arranged bonds for the maintenance suit.

"Purina" Made the Difference!

EQUAL in laying ability. But the hen on the right was fed a common grain ration while the other was fed Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Hen Chow. Grains have lots of material for yolks, but far too little for whites. As they can't lay yolks only, grain-fed hens lay fewer eggs.

Purina Poultry Chows

form a complete ration, containing material for an equal number of whites and yolks. They get the most out of your hens, and cut the feeding cost per dozen eggs.

More Eggs Guarantee

You get your money back if Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Hen Chow, fed as directed, don't produce more eggs than any other ration. Why should you put off a trial when we take the risk?
